

Critical Requests: A Complete Overview

Introduction

If your company needs to find a missing item quickly, you can do so by submitting a Critical Request through the solution. This feature allows you to locate and secure the required equipment or materials in a short timeframe, ensuring that you meet urgent needs with ease and efficiency.

How to Do it?

There are two types of Critical Requests according to the ways of submitting them:

Critical Requests: A Complete Overview

Internal Critical

If you are a registered user and you have an urgent need to create a Critical request, then you have several options how to do it inside the Virtual Inventory:

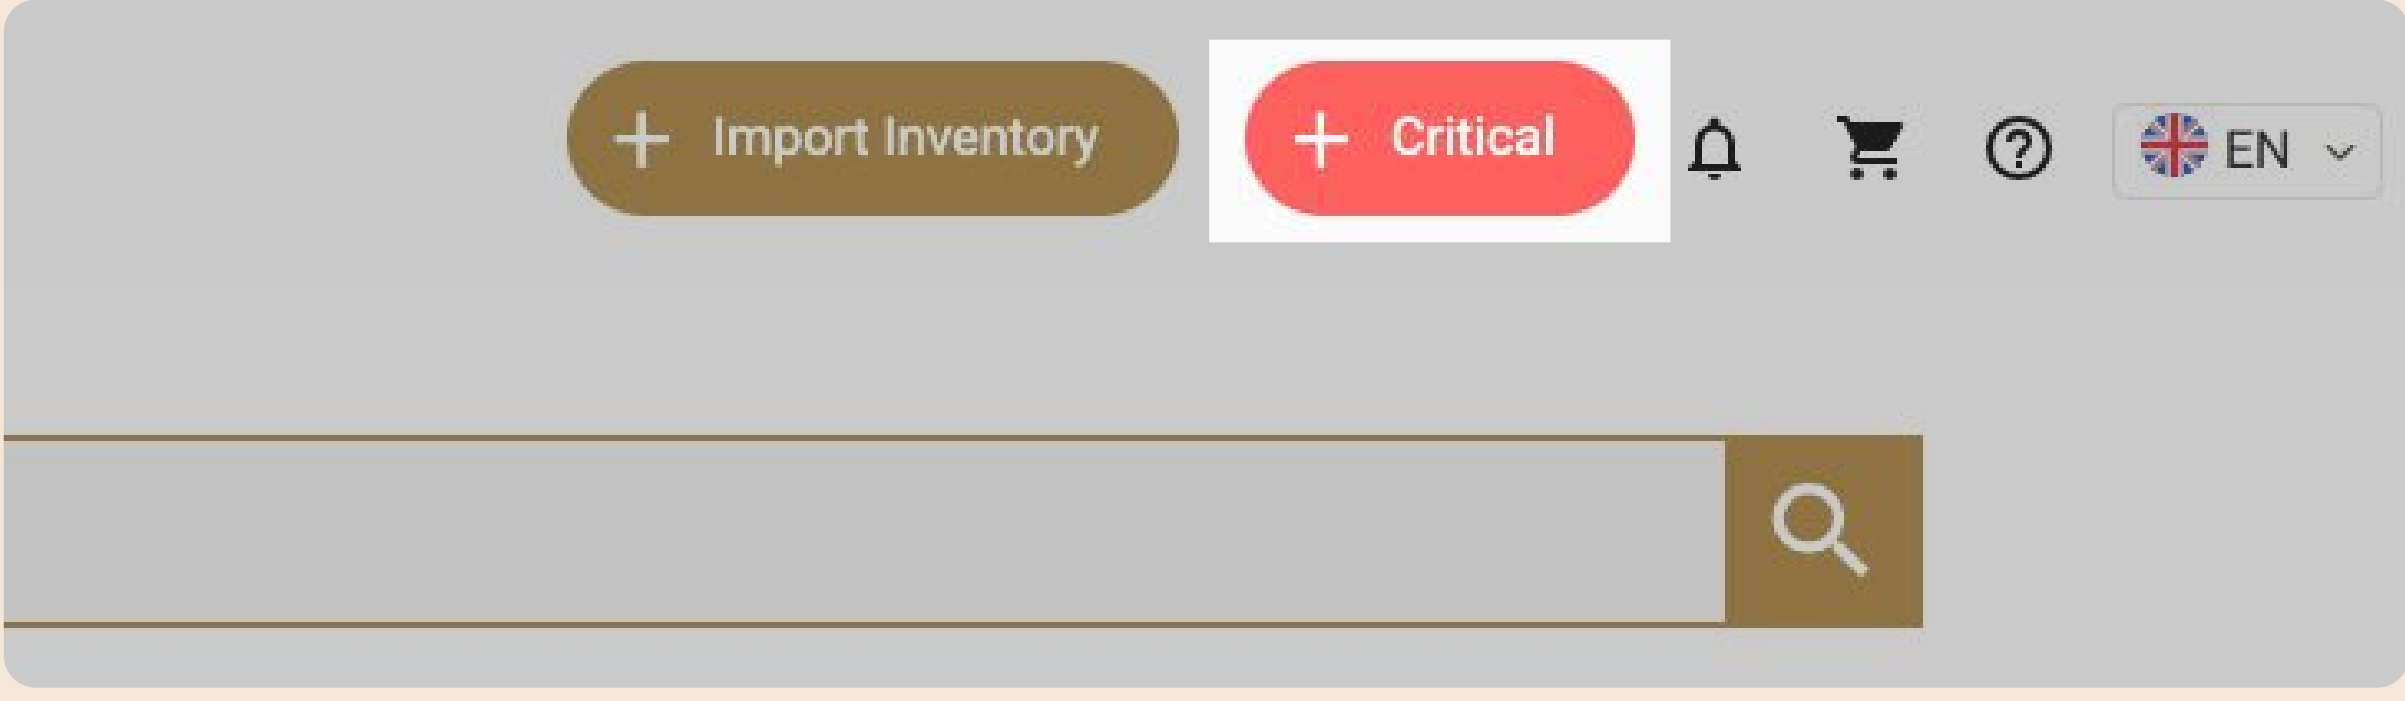

1

By pressing the [+Critical] button on the specific item on the Inventory search results page.

2

By pressing the [+Critical] button at the header of any page.

3

By pressing the [NO RELEVANT RESULTS?] on the top right corner at the Inventory search results page and then [+Critical] button

Flow of Internal Critical Request Processing

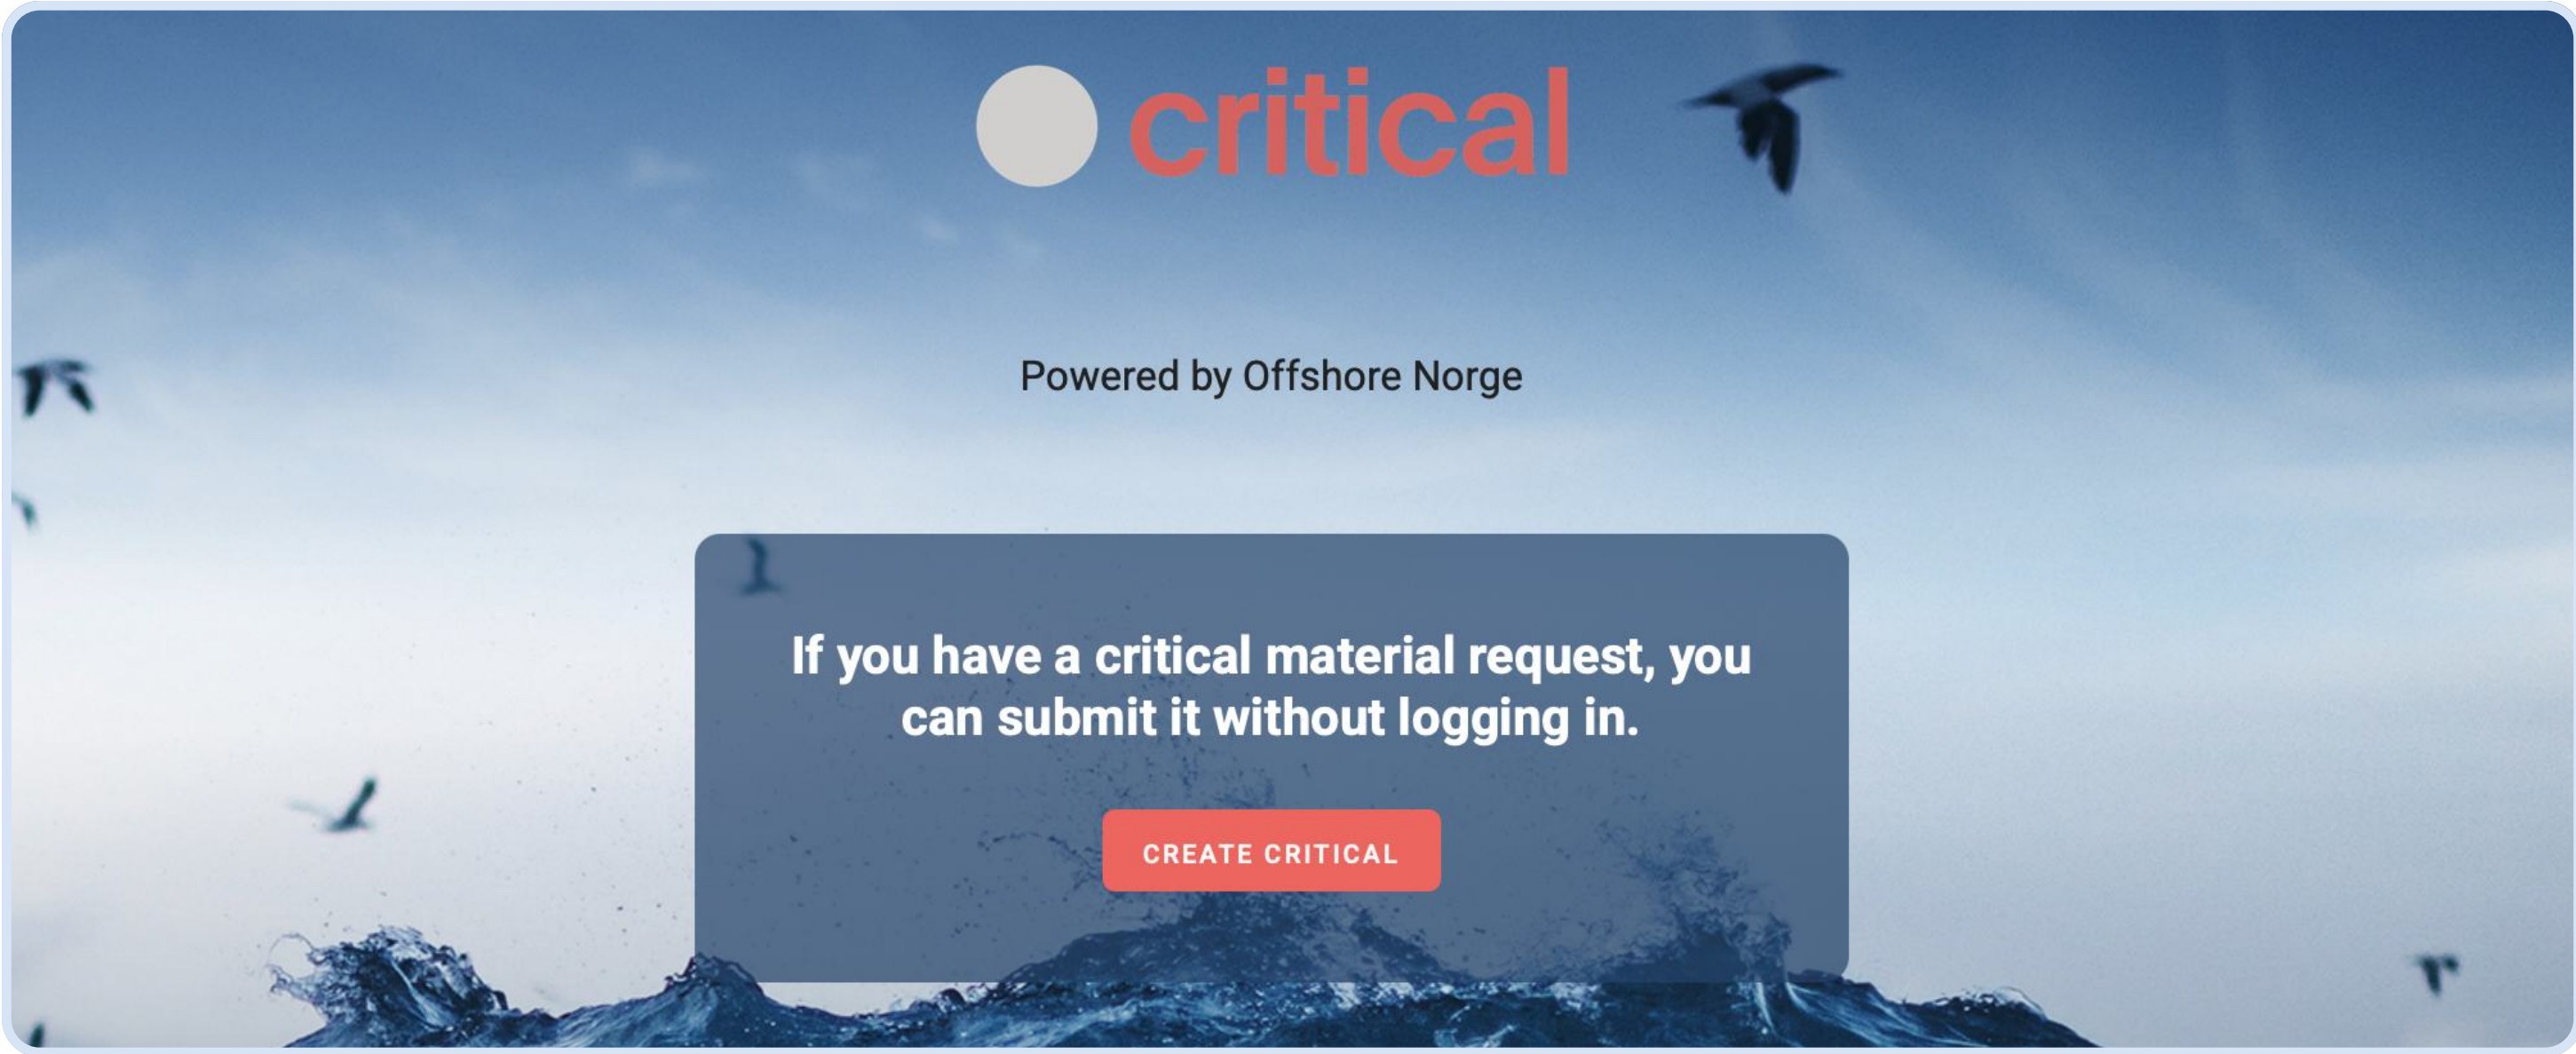

Critical Requests: A Complete Overview

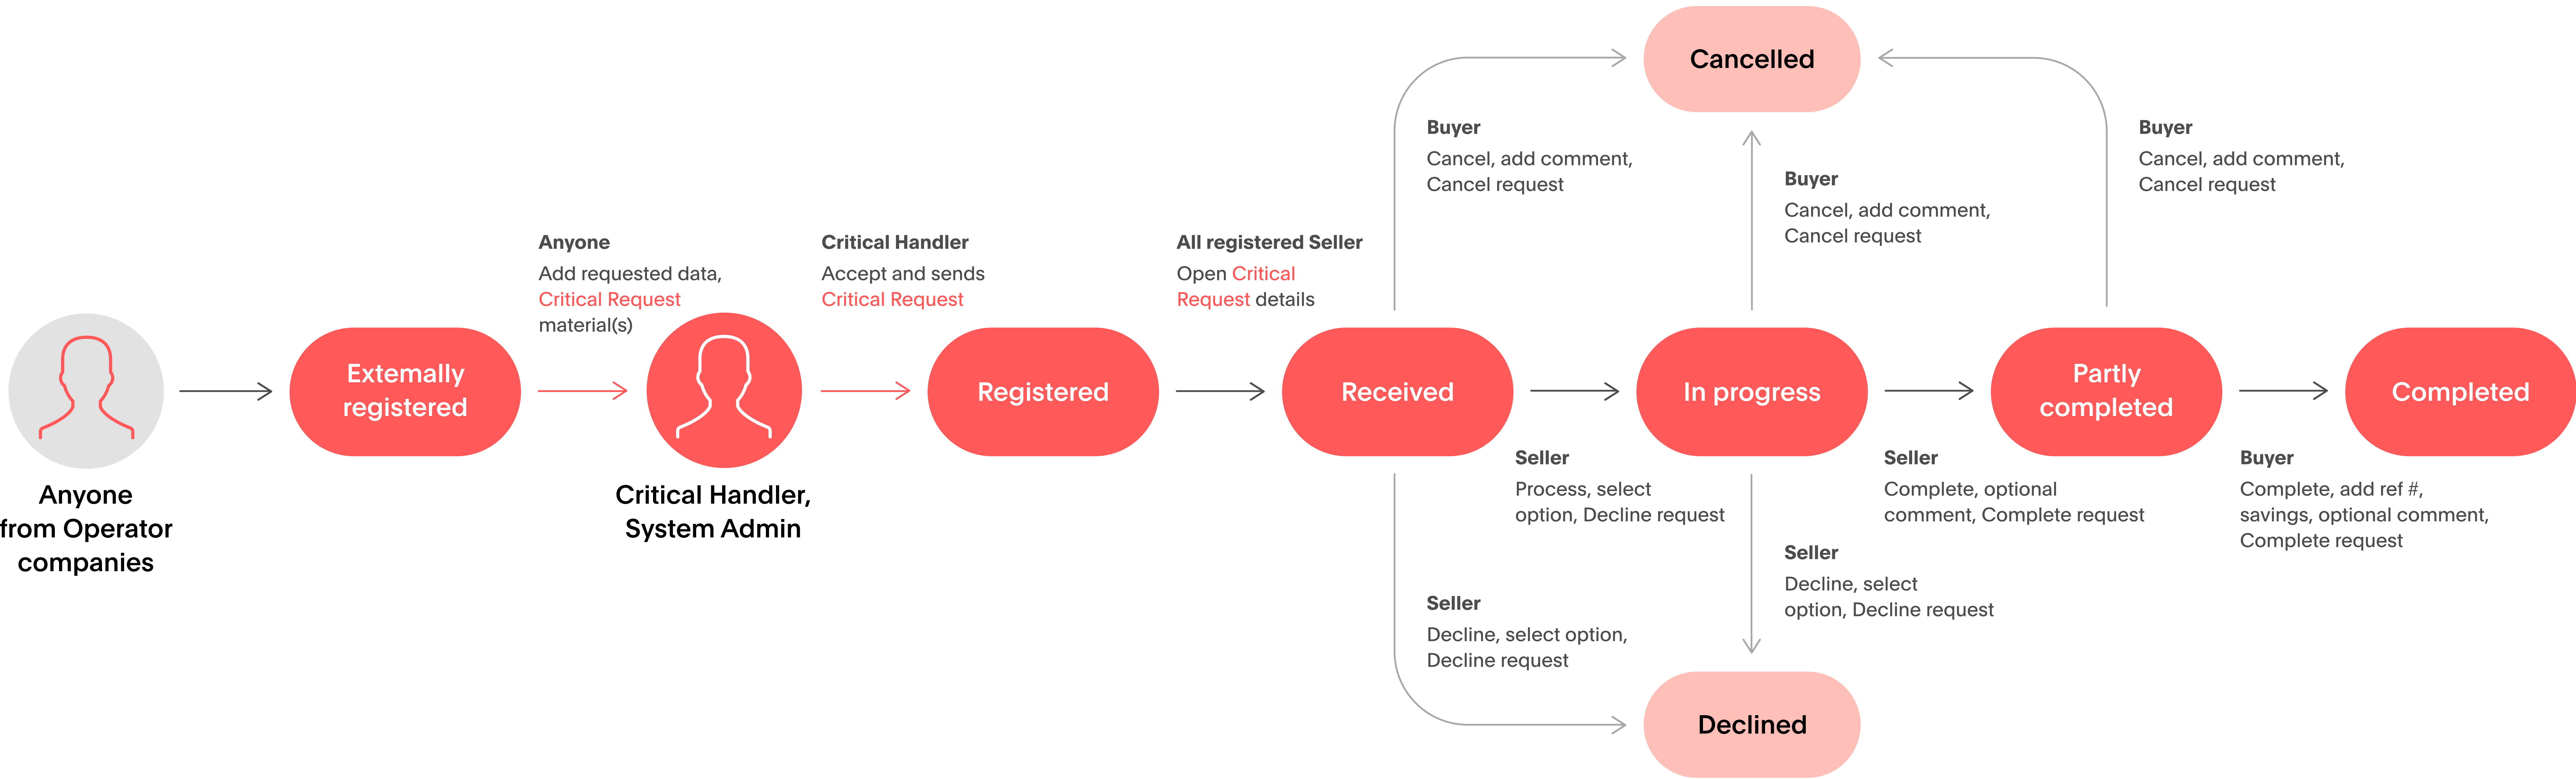

External Critical

If you are not registered or logged into Virtual Inventory, and urgently need some material, you can still create a Critical Request using our external solution, Critical. This option allows you to quickly request the necessary items without needing to register or log in, ensuring you get what you need in time.

To do so, you need to click [+Create Critical] at the solutions' webpage: <https://critical.virtualinventory.no/>.

Flow of External Critical Request Processing

Follow us and stay updated

Questions?

Please contact us at support@virtualinventory.no

